Will You Accept This Rose? Spend Valentine's Weekend With a Shelter Pet

Operation Kindness Humane Society, an animal welfare non-profit, encourages community members to foster a pet for a day during Valentine's weekend

This Valentine's weekend, a few of Operation Kindness Humane Society's top bachelors and bachelorettes are ready to sweep you off your feet. Through "Kindness on the Go," the organization's day foster program, community members can take a furry friend out on a fun-filled Valentine's date from February 13-15. Foster dogs can be picked up at the organization's main shelter in Carrollton, where they will excitedly greet their date with a rose as a special thank you.

Whether you want to have a chill date relaxing on the couch or one filled with adventure, there is a foster for everyone. No experience is necessary, and participation is completely free.

Every foster will receive a "Kindness on the Go" bag that includes a leash, harness, a doggy "business card" to help you learn more about your furry date and an itinerary full of fun, date-worthy ideas around Dallas.

Fostering a shelter dog for even just a short time gives them a mental break, helps the organization's team learn more about their personality and increases their chances of finding a loving home.
